Don't take our word for it... see what our patients say!

"I am now in week two of the trial period and I honestly cannot imagine going without my new ears. I have gone back for scheduled adjustment appointments to fine tune my ears and I am so pleased. Every day I stop and think, "Wow, that is a new sound!"

I have three cuckoo clocks on the wall of my family room and I have never heard the pendulums swinging. I do now. When I sing, I never felt that I had a vibrato to my voice - I heard it on Sunday. At breakfast in the crowded restaurant, I pressed the button twice and immediately, the background noise was subdued and conversations became clear.

Vanity is defined as excessive pride in or admiration of one's own appearance or achievements. No one has noticed on their own that I have two hearing aids in my ears. When I tell them, vanity does come into play. Not because I'm embarrassed because I wear them, but because I am proud that I am doing what needs to be done for me to have a better quality of life."
